>> PROBLEM:

The water pump leaks.

>> CAUSE:

The water pump fitted by the vehicle manufacturer can leak, because the material used is perforated steel sheet. In the worst case, this can lead to significant engine damage.

>> SOLUTION:

febi recommends using water pump febi no. 32682. This modified version of the water pump is manufactured from aluminium die casting. This makes the pump significantly stronger, and prevents leakage. Additionally, febi supplies water pump 32682 including the required gasket and suitable bolt set.

>> FITTING TIP:

When fitting the new version febi 32682, please use bolts supplied with water pump. Torque setting for bolts is 28nM. The vehicle manufacturer's specifications should always be followed!

>> ATTENTION:

Both old and new versions are still available in the aftermarket; however the new version does not contain the required bolts!
